Notes on the Core:

[1] Only one course is required in each area of the Core. Many Undeclared students take an additional course from one or more Core areas they have completed. If 2 courses are completed in the same core area, the second course becomes an Elective.

[2] *Many Social Science majors are required to take an additional Understanding Human Behavior course (upper or lower division) outside of the major. If you are exploring majors in the social sciences, learn the requirements to identify if you will need an additional EHBV Core.

[3] In your first two years, you may take lower-division flagged course; this Experiential Learning for Mission flagged course may be taken any time before graduation. The LELM Flag may appear in major, Core, or elective classes. Review the Bulletin for your majors of interest to see if the flagged course is required within the major curriculum.
