

OUR GERMAN PROGRAM FULBRIGHT AWARDEES

Many of these fifteen award recipients had never studied German before entering our program. The proficiency they gained at LMU helped them obtain the prestigious Fulbright Scholarship.

Nolan Rivkin ('13)

Nolan majored in History and minored in German. He started German at LMU from scratch. He was the Fulbright recipient for the 2013-2014 academic year, and taught English at a German high school near Hamburg. He is now a Ph.D. student in History at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville.

Daniel Gray ('11)

Daniel, an honors student majored in Philosophy, and minored in Archaeology. His two semesters of intermediate and advanced German courses at LMU helped him to receive his Fulbright to teach English at a German high school in Dresden for one year starting in the fall of 2011.

Gina Vollucci ('09)

With a major in European Studies and minors in German and History, Gina's 2009 Fulbright English Teaching Assistantship allowed her to teach English at a high school in Münster, Germany.

Ellen Krause ('08)

Ellen majored in History and minored in German. Her 2008 Fulbright English Teaching Assistantship took her to beautiful Meersburg, Germany to teach English to German high school students.

David Montes ('08)

With a major in Theology and minors in German and Philosophy, David's Fulbright Commission - Austrian-American Educational Commission scholarship was for the 2008-09 academic year. He now teaches English to Austrian high school students in Amstetten, near Vienna. David got an extension for the 2009-10 academic year.

Ray Crosby ('07)

Ray majored in English and minored in German. His 2007 Fulbright English Teaching Assistantship took him to a high school in Düsseldorf, Germany. Ray received his Ph.D. in English from UC Riverside in 2014.

Christine Quinn ('07)

With a Major in International Business and minor in German, Christine received her Fulbright English Teaching Assistantship in 2007 to teach English to high school students in Düsseldorf. She is now a Kindergarten teacher in El Segundo, CA.

Matthew Zuvela ('06)

Matthew's major in English and minor in German allowed him to apply for and receive a Fulbright in 2006. His English Teaching Assistantship took him to teach English high school students in Cologne, Germany.

Crosby Buhl ('06)

With a major in Film Production and a minor in German, Crosby's 2006 Fulbright took her to the renowned Hochschule für Film und Fernsehen "Konrad Wolf" Potsdam-Babelsberg institute near Berlin. She produced a 30 minute documentary on the East German phenomenon Ostalgie.

Bridget Gutierrez ('04)

Bridget graduated with a major in European Studies (German emphasis) and a minor in Communication. Her Fulbright scholarship allowed her to take graduate courses in journalism at the Heinrich-Heine-University in Düsseldorf, Germany, with a media internship.

Anne R. Kaufman ('01)

Anne majored in Psychology, and took three semesters of German at LMU. She received a DAAD Hochschulsommerkurs scholarship to study language and culture at a German university in 2001 (summer) and a Fulbright Commission - Austrian-American Educational Commission scholarship to be an English teaching assistant in Feldbach, Austria in 2001-2002. Her Fulbright was renewed in 2002, to teach in Graz, Austria.

D. Joseph Cunningham ('00)

He graduated in 2000, majoring in Theater Arts and minoring in German and Psychology. After he obtained his M.A from the Monterey Institute of International Studies he was awarded his Fulbright in 2005. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Kansas, Lawrence in 2014 and is now assistant professor of German at Georgetown University.

Erin D. Christensen ('00)

With a minor in German and a major in International Business, Erin obtained her Fulbright scholarship in 2000, to study business at the University of Cologne, Germany.

Shanon P. Zusman ('97)

He double majored in Music and European Studies with a concentration in German. His '97 Fulbright scholarship took him to study music at the University of Vienna in Austria. His doctoral degree in music is from USC.

Anne M. Mitzen ('96)

Anne majored in Humanities with a concentration in German, and minored in Music. Her 1996 Fulbright scholarship allowed her to study art history at the University of Cologne in Germany specializing in German Expressionism. She received a graduate degree from Brown University.