COURSE DESCRIPTION/PRINCIPAL TOPICS

This course helps students acquire advanced language skills, including communicative competence. Students will apply their language skills and social-cultural knowledge in an actual teaching setting.

Students will assist Japanese 1 language students in the classroom or at the Academic Resource Center. As advanced students engage their language skills and cultural knowledge into real teaching situations, they enhance their understanding of the target language. This includes the ability to identify, locate, evaluate, and explore their language skills and knowledge, allowing for well-articulated reports of their teaching experiences in Japanese.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Besides demonstrating four communication skills -- listening, speaking, reading, and writing -- with advanced proficiency, students will study teaching strategies to learn not only the discipline but also the sensitivity required to become thoughtful teaching assistants.

Students will participate in activities that engage them in their natural learning environment as a teaching assistant/tutor. As a result, they will better understand their students' need and learn to facilitate learning objectives, and accommodate and respect each other as different individuals and groups, as teacher-student relationships require.
