China

Chinese Language and Culture

There is no better way to develop language proficiency than through direct engagement in a native-speaking environment!

Students in CHIN 1102 (Chinese 2), CHIN 2104 (Chinese 4), CHIN 3106 (Chinese 6), and CHIN 3706 (Business Chinese II) will have a unique opportunity to immerse themselves in the language through coursework and travel in Shanghai, Suzhou, and Nanjing alongside classmates and professors. From Shanghai's historic French Concession and Yu Garden in the Old City to Pudong's futuristic skyline across the Huangpu River, students will experience a global financial hub where East meets West. In Suzhou, the "Venice of the East," they will wander classical gardens and winding canals steeped in centuries of Jiangnan elegance. In Nanjing, ancient capital of six dynasties, imperial mausoleums and memorials trace the deep arc of Chinese civilization.

From centuries-old gardens to cutting-edge e-commerce and high-tech companies, students will deepen their understanding of Chinese history, culture, contemporary society, and business by engaging directly with Chinese-speaking communities, connecting classroom learning with China's rich heritage and rapidly evolving economy.
